

May 2023

Dorset County Hospital
NHS Foundation Trust

Library Newsletter

Goodbye to Jill

At the end of April we said goodbye to our lovely library manager, Jill, who has moved on to pastures new.

We hope it won't be long until we find a new library manager!

(Interviews for Jill's role take place on Thursday 11th May....Watch this space!)

Want to know more about the team who work in the Library?

Find out all about us—

Jack, Joe and Morag—on our website.

About DCH Library | Dorset County Hospital Library

Training in the Library

Did you know the library staff can help with study skills, referencing, literature searching, health literacy, reflective reading & writing and critical appraisal? Look at our timetable here:

Training and workshops | Dorset County Hospital Library \(dchlibrary.com\)

World Book Night—a success!

The library celebrated World Book Night on 24th April with poetry readings and short stories. Staff were invited to attend and read aloud—or listen—to poems and prose—either their own or others.'

If you also like poetry and short stories, come along to the library on Wednesdays at 12.30pm where you'll meet with likeminded staff.

Thanks to the Reading Agency we were also able to give away copies of Catherine Jessop's amazing memoir Pulling Through.

Literature searching service

Need help with a literature search or would like an answer to a clinical or non-clinical question? Did you know the library runs a literature searching service? Give us your question/topic and we'll search the healthcare databases for you. For more information or to book on to literature searching training contact the library.

Did you know our library staff can attend your departmental meetings/ education sessions?

We have attended a number of departmental meetings and study days – we can support your evidence-based and information needs – just email the library with your requirements.

For more information on any of the above please email library.office@dchft.nhs.uk