

August 2023

Dorset County Hospital
NHS Foundation Trust

Library Newsletter

CILIP celebrates the next generation of leaders and Jack Welch is one of them!

The Chartered Institute of Information and Library Professionals (CILIP) has recently published a list of 125 library colleagues who drive positive change, make a difference and have an impact across all library sectors. At DCH library, we're really proud that Jack was successfully nominated as one of the 125 people on the list. Read more about CILIP 125 at <https://www.cilip.org.uk/news/645604/CILIP-125-The-next-generation-of-leaders.htm>

Well done Jack!

A warm welcome to new doctors joining the Trust

DCH Library would like to extend a warm welcome to new doctors joining the Trust in August. May we remind you that we have a number of resources to help with your clinical decision-making. These include BMJ Best Practice and Dynamed—these can be found on our Intranet home page. We're also looking forward to seeing you at your library induction and giving out your welcome packs!

DCH Library Team's Study Morning at UHD (Poole Hospital) Library

On the morning of Wednesday 28th June, we visited our colleagues from the hospital libraries at UHD. Their manager, Sam Thomas, gave us some interesting insights into the world of Artificial Intelligence. Jack shared his experience of being an apprentice while Morag delivered a session on how we've used champions to raise awareness of health literacy at DCHFT. It was also great to network and learn from our colleagues in the East!

Get ready to study!

Did you know the library offers training in information and study skills, including the basics of literature searching, academic writing and referencing. Book some time with a librarian today! More information is available on our website at <https://dchlibrary.com/library-training/>

For more information on any of the above please email library.office@dchft.nhs.uk